Video found on the web. A black woman living in Chicago does a walkthrough of a Jewel-Osco grocery store that was badly looted during the May 2020 riots following the death of George Floyd. As a Chicagoan, this really pisses me off. If you really believe that black lives matter, it should bother you that people in majority-black communities now have fewer job opportunities and fewer places to purchase essential goods. Think twice before you donate to bail funds for scumbags who do things like this.
